> Good morning, I have been asked to give customer feedback on Needing worth self storage. I have had two containers at Needingworth for around 9 months. The basic set up is perfect for most people that just need more room at home without paying for a container that you have to pay for locks and internal cleaning, It's only storage. Previously I had two at Swavesey but the price went out of my budget . [redacted] a motorcycle race team and we are on a tight budget. Needingworth storage is priced exactly right for the working class person who needs that bit more storage. Swavesey was priced for Cambridge housing prices , if we don't find Needingworth at there affordable pricing we would not probably have to stop racing.
