Hi Kevin

Yes, all good, the wheel washing shouldn't have been put on for a single dwelling. The condition used is the same for larger sites but the wheel washing element is just deleted usually, something I didn't do that in this instance.

Kind Regards

Robin

Dear Robin

Many thanks for your comments on this one. I have gone back to the agents as this is only a minor change and they have provided with me with a revised site plan (attached). Please could you let me know if this (along with the wheel washing suggestion in the attached statement) now satisfies C12?

Thanks as always,

Kev
