Q7 Identification of trees and description of works

→ The trees are tall and willowy, not in particularly good condition and are of limited amenity value. More importantly they are affecting both the thatched roof of and light to 9, Rectory Farm Close. In wind the branches are hitting the thatch, limiting light to the house and are causing "greening" of the thatch due to poor sunlight by the shade of the trees and the proximity of the branches to the thatch. Having spoken with Gavin Smith, the Ramsey Estate has been carrying agreed permitted removal of Ash trees due to alot of Ash dieback on the Estate. It is likely that the Estate will deal with the work requested here which is a 30%. crown reduction of the live trees and the removal of the dead trees as indicated on the ~~map~~ map.
